

An Overview of Human Trafficking

Seminar presented by Ron Davitt, OPOTA Instructor

Did you know...

According to the Ohio Attorney General, right now in Ohio, more than 2,000 school-age children are potentially at risk of being forced into human trafficking through exploited labor, domestic servitude or prostitution. Children, especially those not living with their parents, are especially vulnerable.

FREE SEMINAR
1-3pm on Friday, Nov. 1, 2013
Edward K. Daniels Auditorium, Central Campus

This free seminar will provide a glimpse of human trafficking, examine causes and effects, explore the perspective of both the victim and perpetrator, and help others learn to recognize the signs. This seminar is designed for a broad audience of students and professionals who work with children and young adults on a daily basis. The message will be particularly relevant to counseling and mental health facilities, non-profit and education administrators, health care and domestic violence executives, and law enforcement personnel.
