Southern State goes viral for Halloween

In one week, Southern State’s zombie Halloween video blasted through 3,700-plus views.

The TED Talks parody, featuring SSCC President Kevin Boys, was truly a mob effort. It was the brainchild of Distance Education Coordinator Ben Filla, and features the zombie talents of students and community volunteers, including Rainee Angles’ Stage Make-Up class.

Visit http://www.youtube.com/SSCCpatriots. But don’t drag your feet; we need to keep the video spreading. Stay tuned for a “The Making of...” follow-up video. And remember -- zombies were people too.

AOC receives perfect score on Desk Review

The Adult Opportunity Center received a score of 100 percent on their Ohio Board of Regents Desk Review (performance measurement) for program year 2010. The Desk Review utilizes the following criteria to determine the overall score for each ABLE program:

- Minimum Performance Levels (MPL) for the Educational Functioning Levels (EFL) as determined by standardized assessments;
- MPLs for the follow-up measures including those for employment, entering postsecondary education and/or training, obtaining an AOC/Cont’d on Page 2

SSCC Theatre brings to the stage ‘Biloxi Blues’ Nov. 11-13

7:30 pm Nov. 11 | 2:30 pm Nov. 12 | 3:30 pm Nov. 13 | SSCC Central

“You’re always a witness, always standing around watching what’s happening. Scribbling in your book what other people do. You have to get in the middle of it … take sides … make a contribution to the fight. Any fight. The one you believe in.”

But can one stay neutral, even being far away from the war in Mississippi?

A drafted World War II soldier will discover the answer, along with a few other lessons not covered in the field manual, in Neil Simon’s Tony Award winning comedy “Biloxi Blues” playing Nov. 11-13 in the Edward K. Daniels Auditorium on Southern State Community College’s Central Campus, 100 Hobart Drive, Hillsboro.
