

Do you enjoy live interaction and feeling a sense of community that comes with in-person classes, but want the flexibility of online learning?

Try a hybrid course next semester!

What is a Hybrid course?

The word "Hybrid" is used to describe courses that combine face-to-face classroom learning with the convenience of meeting online. Basically, hybrid courses split the required face-to-face time between campus rooms and the Internet, resulting in a reduction of the amount of time YOU spend traveling to campus. YOU can spend ½ the class in a traditional face-to-face setting on campus and the other ½ at home learning online!

Reasons YOU should consider a hybrid course:

• Flexibility

You'll experience the best of both worlds, face to face time with faculty and fellow students AND time to work in the online classroom.

• Convenience:

Study and complete assignments when you can AND at your own pace, working around your own busy schedule outside of class.

Beginning Fall Semester 2017

ENGL 1101 JW1

(English Composition I)

is a hybrid class and will meet face to face on

Tuesdays from

4:00 - 5:15 PM

as well as online at your convenience!

SOUTHERN STATE
COMMUNITY COLLEGE