Please Note: Marathon offers pre-employment testing, and while there may not be an immediate job opening with the company, Marathon hopes you will consider them in your future career planning.

Applicants will be required to meet with a scholarship representative. Please remember that there is no guarantee for a job with Marathon and those interested would still have to apply to open positions, take the pre-employment tests and pass and interview with Marathon. Be aware that there is not an immediate opening with Marathon. Applicants that have applied, but did not pass a test/get an offer - Marathon would like to be a company that is considered in the future.

There are two pieces to the testing process (Marathon Inventory Outlook and Job Skills Testing). Applicants must complete and pass the Marathon Inventory Outlook and the Job Skills Testing before getting an interview. The test scores are good for one year. If applicants fail either portion of the two tests, they can re-take in one year.
